

This image shows a detailed view of a decorative surface, possibly a book cover or endpaper, featuring intricate gold-leaf patterns and calligraphy. The design is composed of dense, swirling gold lines that form a repeating geometric pattern. Interspersed among these gold patterns are sections of calligraphy written in a traditional, cursive script, likely Persian or Arabic, in a dark green or black ink. The overall effect is one of rich, traditional craftsmanship.

TO THE COLLECTOR.

THE object of the subjoined table is to enable the collector of Papal coins to determine at a glance, the gold, silver, billon and copper issues of the various occupants of the Pontifical See, and their degree of rarity. The gradings extend from common, represented by the letter "C," to the seventh degree of rarity, represented thus: R⁷. The arrangement is chronological under appropriate heads. Where no coins were issued by a Pope, his name and period are omitted.

In addition, the names of the different provinces and towns for which coins were struck, are given: Rome, for which there were always issues, being denoted by the figures "32." These provinces and towns will be found indicated by the numbers in the last column. To these numbers a key is furnished on the last page.

With a view to completeness, I have included the coinage of the various Vacant Sees ("Sede Vacante"), the issues of the Roman Senate, under Cola Rienzi, the last of the Tribunes, and those of the Republic of 1799.

Trusting that this little numismatic brochure may prove acceptable,

I remain,

Very truly,

LYMAN H. LOW.
